

AREA MEETING

Supervisors of the Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District and SCS personnel will attend the annual area meeting of district supervisors on Thursday, July 11th.

These meetings are held on a rotating basis over the nine counties that comprise this area. Hosts this year will be the Barbour County Supervisors, and the meeting will be in Eufaula.

County Commissioner members of the RC & D Steering Committee have also been invited to attend the district supervisors area meeting. Flournoy Whitman represents Coffee County on this committee.

A tour will be made in the Eufaula area, followed by lunch at Cowikee Mills Lodge, and a brief business session. Marion Sanders of Roeton is vice-chairman of the Area Supervisors.

CATFISH PONDS

Stokes Haire of Elba is putting the finishing touches on a couple of good-size ponds on his farm in the Danley's Cross Roads Community.

Haire is planning to stock the 5-6 acre ponds with catfish. He has built-in all the features needed for successfully producing and harvesting the fish. Catch basins have been prepared by shaping the areas just above the dams.

Edges of the ponds are being deepened to at least two feet to help control water weeds. Grass will be planted on most of the slopes surrounding the ponds to prevent silting and enhance the appearance of the ponds.

SCS technicians designed the pond layouts and supervised construction. One pond was built with ACP cost-shares.

RC & D PROJECT

Funds have been set aside for the construction of a gully stabilization structure on the Mixson farm in the Brookland Community.

Bid forms are being prepared and should be ready for distribution within a few weeks. This will be the first such structure built in Coffee County with funds provided through the Wiregrass Resource Conservation and Development Project.

Tourism Fastest Growing Part Of Economy Throughout State Of Alabama

Tourism is one of the fastest growing segments of Alabama's economy and its potential seems nearly unlimited. During the past five years out-of-state guests alone have made direct expenditures totaling more than 857 million dollars making tourism the state's third largest industry, reports the State Bureau of Publicity and Information.

Total spending for travel in the United States last year amounted to about $42.3 billion; in Alabama, $423 million, $265 million of which was spent by more than 27 million out-of-state guests for Alabama goods and services of the travel trade members.

Out-of-state visitors' expenditures should not be viewed as an end in itself, but as one of the first steps in realizing the tremendous potential of tourism in the future. Leisure time in America is growing at a striking rate, the three-week vacation is commonplace, the work week is shrinking and more and more families are taking a second vacation each year. Some experts predict that spending for leisure time activities will be the largest factor in the nation's economy within the next two decades.

For instance, 1976, less than ten years away, there'll be 231 million Americans, an increase of 21% and a disposable income of $744 billion dollars, up 70%; 100 million cars, a jump of 46% and 1 1/2 trillion miles driven per year, an increase of over 100%. Add to all this the multiplier effect of the dollar and an enormous figures denoted the extra economic activity caused as these travel dollars pass from hand to hand!

Income and mobility will be factors which will allow people to capalatize on their leisure time. More discretionary income will allow more families to enjoy Alabama travel goods and services. Even at this time, vacation trips are within easy financial range for millions of prospective travelers and today's highways bring Alabama within a day's travel for most residents of the visitor-rich markets of the mid-west, southwest and our neighboring southern states.

In evaluating the rapid rise of the Alabama tourist industry, Governor Albert P. Brewer commented, "Alabama's assets placed it in an advantageous position to capitalize on the potential growth in tourism. Our abundance of water and land, our scenic, historic and recreation areas, our climate and our highways give us a product that is unexcelled."

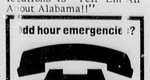

Latest figures from the State Bureau of Publicity and Information reflect giant strides in the industry growth. Lodgings tax receipts, request for Alabama travel literature and attendance at major attractions are setting new records.

Fiscal October 1-May 31, 1968 shows a 4.76% gain in the lodgings tax over the same period in fiscal 1966-68. A portion of the total lodgings tax figure is earmarked solely for travel promotion and advertising. Travel literature requests numbered 312,309 through the month of May compared with 259,781 of the previous year.

Alabama's 1968 travel theme, carried out-of-state in forty-six magazines, thirteen newspapers and with strategic billboard locations is "Tell 'Em All About Alabama!!"

Cave-In Kills Local Worl

WORKING HARD to free the body of Clarence Brooks age 30, who was buried and drowned Monday afternoon while working on the sewage project in Elba, Brooks, a negro, and another workman were in the ditch, near the city pool, when the side of the ditch collapsed and a water main broke. The other man was able to climb free but Brooks was stuck in the "quicksand" and unable to get free. Workmen from his crew, Elba Rescue Squad and Elba Fire Department worked for two hours to free the body from the muck.

This is the third bad cave-in during this project. Just last week a workman in another part of town received a broken leg when a trench collapsed on him.

LUCILE K. WOODHAM McRAE

THERE IS ONE BAD feature about going on a pleasure trip. We have to come back to earth and get back on the job and after "playing" a few days that is not easy.

I wonder sometimes why it is that we can get the habit of "playing" so quick when it takes us years to get the "working habit."

The trip to Nassau was everything that anyone could want. We met many new people, and enjoying people was as nice a feature of the trip as anything. And it was especially a pleasure to be with old friends again. It seems that it has been years since I enjoyed being with newspaper men and women that I have known all these years.

Mack and I went to Montgomery early Wednesday morning for a special press conference called by Governor Albert Brewer. Mack came back and my two sisters taking the trip with me joined me at the home of another sister in Montgomery Wednesday afternoon. We left the Montgomery airport Thursday morning at 9 o'clock for the flight to Nassau. We flew by United DC-6B with a passenger capacity of 85 and a cargo capacity of 5,500 pounds. I figured that if everybody's luggage weighed as much as mine that some of us might be grounded. I had telephoned the Alabama Press Association manager as to amount of luggage pieces and weight we could carry. I was told that we were not limited so as usual I took just about everything I have.

The flight to Nassau was perfect. We were comfortable. We had all the enjoyment of an exclusive hotel. Guests were served cocktails, lunch, coffee and soft drinks. Whatever you wanted it was there for you. We arrived in Nassau at the International Airport on schedule and then went through customs and all that kind of stuff - something else new to me. As soon as we arrived we were served some kind of rum punch and given forms to fill out before leaving for the hotel. I looked it over to see if we were giving up our U. S. citizenship before filling out mine. We had to give our birth year, month, and date and I was beginning to get sorta nervous. I didn't mind telling them how old I was but darned if I was going to tell them how much I weighed which I figured would be the next question. Guess they figured they could push us women just so far and asking age was the limit.

Then came time to board a taxi cab for the trip to the hotel - about as wild an automobile trip as I have ever been on. I suddenly decided that it was safer up in an airplane. Drivers travel on the left side of the road and a couple of women on our car who had not been told that you travel on the left in Nassau immediately started screaming at the driver that he was on the wrong side of the road. Everybody travels fast so about all I could do was laugh at them and be just as scared as they were.

It was a very peculiar feeling - riding on the left and meeting heavy traffic on our right. I didn't get to see a thing on the side of the road enroute to the hotel because I was frightened myself and in stitches with laughter at those two women with us. It was a wonderful feeling getting out of that taxicab when we arrived at the hotel.

We enjoyed the ride back to the airport much better Sunday afternoon. By then we were a little better accustomed to the "wrong-side driving."

Our sister in Montgomery told us that she would sure like to go along just for the show (we three) and she would have had a good sample right there. We were such country gals we started worrying about our luggage from the moment we got off the plane. About a dozen bags were selected from the many on the plane to be opened for checking and none of ours were in them. We hadn't seen ours since we got to the airport in Montgomery and didn't see them again until we found them sitting in our hotel rooms in Nassau. I had checked everything I had except my pocketbook and me. I was determined to enjoy that trip without being bothered with anything.

One of my sisters had threatened to have herself checked with the baggage to keep an eye on it so that we would at least have a changing of clothes when we got to Nassau. I don't think I would have cared whether I had anything but me and my purse or not. I don't think I would have let it keep me from having a good time. I went with that intention and I was going to enjoy myself. I did everything anyone else was willing to do except participate in the gambling. I'm not a good gambler and I knew if I lost a couple of dollars I would probably make an effort to take it out of some guy's hide there at the gambling table.

I thoroughly enjoyed the Sheraton-British Colonial Hotel covering 12 acres of land at the edge of the city of Nassau. The hotel provides two beaches, a big swimming pool, all kinds of games, tennis, golf, etc. - a number of restaurants and bars and a shopping arcade with 19 stores. While many of the group was hitting the beaches some of us were covering the 21 by 7 mile Island. And of course everyone attended all the special parties for the group. If anyone did a lot of sleeping while in Nassau they missed a lot of activity.

When we got back to Montgomery a brother-in-law told us we didn't look "sun-tanned" and my sister, Libby, told him "you don't get sun-tanned in nightclubs." We made most of them, also, and some of the floor shows were really good. Some were naughty and others, well . . .

So many funny things happened on the trip and I guess I will be telling you about them for months and referring to certain incidents. Among the people we enjoyed a lot were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burgess of The Opp News, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Garner, Sr. of The Union Springs Herald, Mrs. Evelyn Looser of Prattville, Mrs. Evelyn Smith of Prattville and many others. We were included in the above group for many of the trips on the Island.

Trip report continued next week

REX BRADSHAW

897-6618 --- Elba, Ala.

It is with a greta deal of pleasure that I announce my candidacy for Councilamn of Ward Number 4. Since my appointment to fill the unexpired term of the late line gentleman, Mr. J. J. Lindsey, I have tried to serve all citizens to the very best of my ability. Knowing full well that some council actions have displeased some of you, rest assured that it is still felt that they have benefited our city as a whole. With this thought, I can say that I have thoroughly enjoyed my experience on the City Council while acting as your representative, and express my desire to continue in this capacity.

I make only one promise. I will continue to vote my convictions which will constantly be concerned with only those issues believed in the best interest of the entire city.

Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated on August 13th. Thank you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE SUNDAY

Hardest fact for the adult mind to comprehend is that a teen-ager stands at the threshold of life.

When you enter a strange door you are uncertain. You don't know what's in store for you. You aren't sure which way to turn.

There may be familiar, welcoming voices — but even these now have the ring of uncertainty. For when your whole world is changing, can you be sure that the people around you are not changing also?

For boys and girls in this time of uncertainty the Church is the fulcrum of strength. Its truth is unchanging. Its teaching is clear. Its promises are worthy of hope, trust, endeavor, sacrifice.

The problems of the teen-ager are tremendous . . . but so is the might of his God. The character, the certainty, the charity of the Church inspires his ideals . . . challenges his courage.

Miss Cooper Honored On Sixteenth Birthday

Dr. and Mrs. Bancroft Cooper entertained at a formal dance on Friday evening, June 28, at the Elba Country Club, honoring their daughter, Miss Christina Cooper, on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday.

Miniature candles encircled with sprays of pastel flowers and ribbons were suspended from the chandeliers of the ballroom and a white wicker basket of summer flowers hung over the fireplace. In the dining room a long table covered in muted pink was centered with a cut glass bowl of Queen Anne's lace and roses in shades of pink and red. A silver punch bowl was placed at one end of the table and a tiered birthday cake at the other. Small linen covered tables centered with a rose bud were placed about the room.

Miss Cooper wore a gown of white crepe with soft shirring fashioned on empire lines.

Dr. and Mrs. Cooper were assisted in their entertaining by their daughter, Miss Conya Cooper, and music for the evening was provided by "The Stepping Stones." Some one hundred friends from Elba and neighboring towns attended.

Governor Brewer Launches Alabama's Sesquicentennial Year Celebration

Calling on every "citizen, group and community" to become involved, Governor Albert P. Brewer recently set the stage for a spectacular year-long celebration to mark Alabama's 150th anniversary as a state.

At the same time he made it clear that the gala observance, while commemorating the dramatic progress accomplished by the state, is keyed to an even greater future. In announcing initial plans for the year's events, he revealed that the story of Alabama --- its natural beauty and resources as well as its vast industrial opportunities --- will be told throughout the world.

Speaking to an expanded press conference in the auditorium of the Highway Department Building, the governor said that "Our Sesquicentennial year marks an important landmark in the dramatic history of Alabama," and urged that, by all working together, it be made a memorable one.

Appearing with the governor at the conference was Martin J. Darity, Director of the state's Bureau of Publicity and Information.

The campaign, labeled "Alabama 150," invites the world to visit Alabama during the anniversary year, featuring the motto, "Have a Ball --- It's Your Vacation, Our Celebration." While this primary approach has been built around the promotion of tourism, Alabama's third largest industry, the approach also embraces business and industry.

This is only the core, the pivotal point around which we hope will be a total celebration reaching every area of the state," the Governor said. "I urge every citizen, group and community to make the Alabama Sesquicentennial memorable in every way.

"I hope industries, businesses, schools, churches, civic clubs -- every level of Alabama's population -- will develop a Sesqui project of its own, as well as joining in the statewide activities. We have a wonderful story to tell --- of scenic beauty, natural resources, transportation, power -- and water, lots of water, for recreation and for industry.

"Possibilities to focus attention on Alabama in 1969 are limitless -- commemorative events, festivals, parades, contests, cultural gifts, -- and many, many others.

"Contributions to the observance may range from more modest local events to spectacular presentations. All will be on a gala and triumphant note, befitting the pride and confidence we all feel in the accomplishments and the potential of our great state."

Darity heralded the Sesqui as a "once in a lifetime opportunity" to promote Alabama and set forth the specific objectives of the 150th Celebration as:

1. To focus world wide attention on Alabama, its attractions and its opportunities.

2. To coordinate and promote a broad program of activities emphasizing the colorful past, the dynamic present and the limitless future of the State of Alabama.

3. To encourage more visitors from out of state.

4. To encourage more in-state travel by Alabama residents.

5. To instill in our citizens a new pride in their own state.

Confident that many industries and persons will support projects fitting in with the overall program, Darity said that a large portion of the budget of the Alabama Bureau of Publicity and Information in 1969 will be used in a national media campaign to further promote the Sesqui.

Mr. Frank Lee and Mrs. Pat Dunbar displayed art work for advertisements that will appear in travel sections of newspapers in the southeast and midwest with a combined circulation in 37 selected business, sports, women's, family and general national magazines with circulations totaling over 27 million.

Also shown were other ads which will be inserted

4-H JUDGING

Seven Coffee County 4-H Club members will be taking part in the District 4-H Beef Cattle and Hog Judging Contests. The district judging eleiminations will be held at the W.H. Taylor Farm in Elba and also at the Frosty Morn Buying Station for 4-H Club members throughout the 17 -- county southeast Alabama area. Participating in the senior contest will be Larry Doster, Jerry Lamb and Al Britt, participating in the junior contest will be Allen Weeks, Bob Helms, Carl Sanders and Danny Ezell.

SUMMER MEETING

Curtis Wilkes, president of the Coffee County Hog Producers Association, and his various committees are all set for the summer meeting of the hog producers Thursday night at the Elba Elementary School. The group will enjoy a speech by J. R. Bedell of Naremco Products Company of Springfield, Missouri. In addition to this, special entertainment will be enjoyed by all members of the Association and their wives. Over 100 members and their wives are expected to attend this special meeting.

HONEY

W. O. Fulford of Enterprise is in the real estate business and also does some farming. One of his hobbies is bee and honey production. He doesn't have as many bees and is not as big and has not had as much experience as the Harpers in New Brocton, but he is trying to learn.

He gave me a pint of delicious honey a few days ago. Fulford is interested in improving his management and we have requested Carl Dennis, our bee specialist from Auburn, to visit with us one day this week to help our bee producers with their management problems.

OPEN HOUSE

The John Deere folks have invited us to special open house festivities Friday afternoon out at their new location near Metcalf Tractor Company. They will be known as Enterprise Tractor Incorparated and I understand will be handling a full line of John Deere tractors and equipment plus other lines.

I think that we have one of the best groups of tractor equipment dealers of any county in the state and all of them are helping to develop Coffee County agriculture. I know that Monroe Mynard and his staff are going to have their hands full serving all that good food Friday afternoon and I am looking forward to being with them for this special occasion.

PEANUTS

I still feel like Coffee County peanut growers can make an excellent crop of peanuts if we can get enough rain and have this rain continue until about August 15. As I have said several times, I don't believe our farmers will complain about having to dust or spray their peanuts for leafspot because it is raining too much. It takes a lot of rainfall to make high yields fo peanuts, I believe that more folks are controlling leafspot this year than in any previous year. However, we have entered the time of year when leafspot becomes severe, so it is going to take more of the materials to get good coverage than it did two or three weeks ago. Top peanut growers throughout the county say that they are going to increase their number of applications this year. Many of them are using 6 and 7 applications.

SOIL FERTILITY

Charles Gibson of Route 2, Enterprise, called me about a month ago to check a field of corn that had large areas of extremely poor and stunted growth of corn. We sent two soil samples to the laboratory at Auburn -- one from the good corn and one from the poor corn. On the soil where the corn growth was poor, the pH was 4.5 and on the better corn the pH was 5.4. The 4.5 field was extremely acid and did not make corn regardless of the amount of fertilizer used. I pointed this out to emphasize the need for testing fields to determine lime needs. A lot of times this condition will show up almost overnight as it did in Charles Gibson's case.

Direct Dialing Effective On Sunday Morning

All telephone customers in sixteen of General Telephone's southern Alabama exchanges should now have their special Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) booklets, according to information received from C. A. Swallows, general manager.

The 16 exchanges scheduled to convert to the new system of long-distance calling are Dothan, Columbia, Newville, Midland City, Pinckard, Wicksburg, Abbeville, Headland, Enterprise, Elba, New Brockton, Geneva, Hartford, Samson, Slocomb and Daleville.

The booklet contains all the information necessary to start making long-distance calls by DDD, Swallows said, when the exchanges become a part of the nationwide network this Sunday. He said that anyone who did not receive the DDD booklet can get one at the local telephone business office.

Swallows noted that local residents will find it an interesting experience to be able to dial their own long-distance calls. He said that if customers will follow the instructions in the booklet carefully they should have no difficulties whatsoever.

The 16-exchange DDD conversion is scheduled for Sunday morning, July 21, at 2:01 a.m.

The remainder of General Telephone's southern Alabama exchanges will convert to DDD in the fall of this year.

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS AT NEWBIA BAPTIST CHURCH THIS WEEK

Peanut experts prefer Polyram®

You get more peanuts per acre with Polyram for two reasons.

First, Polyram wards off the major disease of peanuts, leafspot. So more peanuts survive to maturity.

Secondly, Polyram is safe for plants and safe to work with. Polyram protected peanuts thrive all season to produce high yields of sound mature kernels.

See your local dealer for Polyram. A larger harvest will be in the bag.

POOR ORIGINAL

SECOND EFFORT

It took a second effort to produce a satisfactory supply of water for Mrs. W. W. Thornton's cattle. Dry weather caused the water table to drop below the collecting tile after it was installed the first time. But, after lowering the tile about four inches, the water started flowing again.

Mrs. Thornton's cows now have all the clean, pure water they need. They no longer have to drink out of mud holes. And water does not have to be carried to them as was the case before the spring was developed.

As a result of the experience at Mrs. Thornton's farm in the Weeks Community, SCS personnel are adopting a new slogan, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again."

ANOTHER HONOR

At the recent Area 7 meeting of Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors, Marion Sanders of Coffee County was nominated as first vice-president of the Area.

Sanders will be officially elected to this post at the State Convention in December and will take office at that time. He will provide the leadership for Area 7, which consists of the nine "Wiregrass" counties during 1969.

This honor came to Sanders in recognition of the fine job that he and the other Coffee County Board of Supervisors have been doing in promoting soil and water conservation.

Other members of the Board are Ira Allen Elmer Bryan, Charles Mallory, and Martin Moates.

GULLY FILLERS

A large gully on Clayton Walden's farm in the Cool Springs Community is being used for observational planting of willow seedlings. Seven varieties of willows were planted in the bottom of the gully last March.

The latest inspection showed that some of the seedlings had reached heights of 18 inches. Fertilizer is being applied to them each month.

A cantilever pipe was installed in the gully by Walden about three years ago. This structure stopped the uphill growth of the gully. The willows are being used in an effort to find a plant that will catch silt and start a process of filling-in the gully from the bottom.

SCS Plant Materials Centers are producing the plants and supervising their use in these trials.

Other plants such as love grass and canes are being used in trial plantings in the guest for a "gully filler."

Court Of Appeals Gives OK To Co-op Plant

The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has denied an application for a rehearing by Alabama Power Company on its court battle to halt the construction of a generating plant on the Tombigbee River by Alabama Electric Cooperative Inc.

The entire court, in a unanimous decision, denied the Alabama Power Company's effort to seek a rehearing on a decision by the court earlier this spring upholding Alabama Electric's right to build the plant and to enter into 35 year power supply contracts with the rural distribution cooperatives it serves.

The Fifth Circuit Court decision last April upheld an earlier decision in a lower court on the case which has been pending since 1962. The generating plant near Jackson which is the subject of the court battle is nearly completed and is expected to go into operation this fall.

Rural Resources Helping People Help Themselves

Coffee County Rural Resource Service, funded through the Office of Economic Opportunity and located in Elba and Enterprese, exists for the purpose of helping people to help themselves, Director Miriam Farris, Field Counselors Addie Lou Taylor, Gloria Blue, Betty Urschel, Etensie Miley, and Secretary Betty Roberts offer assistance to needy families of all races.

A local poverty-stricken housewife whose husband, a common laborer, had been ill and unable to work for several weeks, contacted Rural Resource Service for assistance. Bills were mounting and her children needed the attention of the Alabama Speech Clinic in Tuscaloosa. An Emergency Loan of up to $300 at 2% interest -- designed for such emergencies as food, clothing, tools required to make a living, basic utilities interrupted due to lack of funds, hospital and medical expenses -- was approved and the children received the help they neded.

The housewife is now taking advantage of the opportunity to better herself by attending In-Service Training. In - Service Training is held on Wed. afternoons in the Elba and Enterprise Rural Resources Offices. She is learning to cut out and sew clothing for herself and her family, to make and sell stuffed pillows, pot holders, aprons, etc. She also receives counselling services and knows someone cares about her and her problems.

Other services offered by Rural Resources include: a used clothing bank in which clothes are sized and fitted to the needy with the hope of instilling within the individual a desire to improve his personal appearance and a sense of pride in his accomplishment; referral services to existing agencies that supply necessary assistance --if none exist, local clubs, organizations, and people of the community are asked to help; employment services; counselling services for individual problems, employment problems, budgeting money, etc.; surveying for programs needed in the area, such as Farmers Co-Op, recently completed, Operation Head Start, and On-The-Job Training now in progress.

Rural Resources is in Elba to serve the public and welcomes anyone needing assistance.

Crash Kills Luverne Man Monday Night

A car-truck collision late Monday night in Coffee County claimed the life a Luverne man returning from Florida. The crash scene was on Alabama Highway 141, about 50 feet South of the Coffee Crenshaw line. The dead man was identifid as Earl Moore, age 68, driving a 1961 Ford.

The crash occured when a 1961 International Tractor trailer truck, driven by Glen Sorrells of DeFuniak Springs, Florida, turned to the right (south) onto 141 from a dirt road. The truck driver had to cross the center line of the highway to get his long, loaded trailer onto the road. The car driven by Moore crashed into the truck just behind the cab.

Sorrells said he stopped at the intersection and looked both ways and saw no cars coming, then as he was pulling back onto the right side of the road he saw a car coming and tried to get back on his side but the truck was loaded and wouldn't move fast enough.

Moore was taken to the Elba General Hospital by the Brantley Rescue Squad and pronounced dead on arrival.

Tooper Morris, who investigated the accident said it was still under investigation and no charges had been filed against anyone.

Area Skies Most Crowded In World

Skies over Southeast Alabama continue to be about the most congested in the world, in good weather and bad, due to flight training at the Army Aviation School.

This was proved again last week when the Army Radar Approach Control (ARAC) at Cairns Army Airfield set two new records in handling aircraft instrument operations.

ARAC, which controls military and civil air traffic in Southeast Alabama, broke a seven-month old record on Monday when it handled 688 operations in a 12-hour period. The new mark lasted only until Tuesday when the busy air traffic controllers logged 695 operations. By the week's end, ARAC handled a total of 3,200 operations, an average of 640 for each training day.

The Ft. Rucker facility controls air traffic in and out of Cairns Field, Lowe and Hanchey Army Heliports, and the Dothan Municipal Airport.
